NORMAN PARK ATHLETICS ARENA- LAYOUT

WELCOME MESSAGE

On behalf of the NSSF Planning team, it is my utmost pleasure to welcome you all to our 3rd Annual Sports and Family Fun Day. We are delighted to have you here with us as we make new friends, reunite with old ones and partake in a host of fun activities.

Inspired by the London 2012 Olympics, the NSSF was set up two years ago and is a collaboration of UK based School Alumni Associations and organisations with a Nigerian connection. Our mission is to promote the awareness and importance of quality education in Nigeria. We use the Sports day as a vehicle to promote public awareness of the work of the member Alumni Associations and their fund-raising activities.

The first Edition of our Sports and Family Fun Day was held in 2012. It was hugely successful attracting over 800 people of various ages, races and backgrounds. Last year, despite heavy torrential rain, over 600 people were in attendance at our event with a similar measure of success. Today promises to be even more spectacular with additional Alumni Associations in our fold and more events added to our programme.

Preserving and improving Education standards in Nigeria remains at the heart of what we do. In view of this, we decided to host our first ever Education Seminar at the University of London in June this year. It was a great day of lively debates, intelligent contributions and networking. It is hoped that our deliberations will help to positively influence Educational Policy in Nigeria.

On a more serious note, we stand with the World community as we empathize with the families of the Boko Haram terror attacks and the abducted Chibok school girls. We pray for their safe return and a quick end to the mindless acts of violence plaguing our nation.

Today's Sports day is the culmination of what has been a great Summer filled with fantastic Sporting events such as the 2014 World Cup in Brazil, Wimbledon and the just concluded Glasgow Commonwealth Games. We are here today to compete, socialise, network and have fun. Have a wonderful day!

NSSFF School Profiles

ABEOKUTA GRAMMAR SCHOOL (AGS) is a secondary school located in Abeokuta, Ogun State, Nigeria. Nigeria cannot record its greatness without reference to past pupils of Abeokuta Grammar School. It has produced justices, industrialists, statesman, respected traditional rulers, educators, a women's emancipation front liner, artists, a private medical philanthropist, musicians, and renowned academics. Founded in 1908 as a boy's school by the Abeokuta District Church Council (Anglicans) with the motto "The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom", the school welcomed all with a thirst for learning, discipline, and academic excellence without regard to race, ethnicity or religion. The Founding Fathers believed strongly in training both the body and the mind. It was their view that education should equip a student to use both his brains and hands effectively, to be a credit to his home, community, country and the world. Discipline and character training were fundamental to their mission, as they believed no meaningful success could be achieved without discipline and character training.

ANWAR-UL-ISLAM COLLEGE Lagos (formerly Ahmadiyya College) was established in 1948 initially in Olushi Street, Lagos Island. The school relocated to its current site in Agege in the mid -1950s thanks to the hard work and dedication by the founding fathers including Alhaji Jubril Martin. It was the first government approved Muslim secondary school and whilst most of the students are Muslims the school has a very proud record of Christians students. The college promotes religious tolerance and also excels in education and sports. We live and champion the motto of the school "either the best or nothing"! Hence the school is blessed with prominent old students "Oga at the top" in high profile roles both in the private and public sectors in Nigeria and elsewhere in the world including a current Minister of State. ACAOSA UK will be celebrating its silver anniversary soon!

BAPTIST ACADEMY LAGOS was founded in 1855 and is arguably the first school established in Nigeria; its origin is traceable to African American Reverend Joseph M. Harden. The present site was first-rate legacy of the University of Lagos, inclusive of a standard football field and a sports field complete with a six-lane athletics track. The school, recently the country's representative at a science Olympiad in South Africa and Cowbell's mathematics Championship winner for secondary schools in Lagos state, is continually being blessed with a growing number of brilliant students and dedicated teaching staff of sound intellect, all making their marks everywhere. BAOSA is the UK Alumni Association of the school.

NSSFF School Profiles

BIRCH FREEMAN HIGH SCHOOL is a boys' secondary school located in Surulere, Lagos. It was named after the first Methodist Missionary to land in Nigeria in 1824. The school was established on the 6th of February 1960 and administered by Methodist Church (Western Nigeria District). Birch Freeman High School has produced men of different professional backgrounds, ranging from Accountants, Engineers, Barristers, Business men, Government officials and many more. Notable among them is the incumbent governor of Lagos State, Governor Raji Fashola, who represents the amiable and charismatic products of the school. The motto of the school is "trained for duty and for thee." All old boys are trained to truly believe in that. Birch Freeman Old Boys Association (BIFOBA) is the Alumni Association of the school and it currently has branches in the UK, U.S.A and Nigeria.

CHRIST'S SCHOOL ADO EKITI, was established by an English clergyman Archdeacon Dallimore as Ekiti Middle School in 1933. The name Christ's School was adopted in 1936. The School has contributed greatly to educational progress and development in Nigeria, and has produced arguably the highest numbers of professors in the country, in virtually all fields of learning. The school has also produced well known alumni and public figures, like the late Professor Sam Aluko, a renowned Economist, the late Professor Kayode Osuntokun, one of the foremost neurologists of his generation, and the current governor of Ekiti State, Dr Kayode Fayemi. Christ's School Alumni Association UK is the Old Students body in the UK.

CMS GRAMMAR SCHOOL LAGOS is Nigeria's oldest and foremost secondary institution. It was established on June 6, 1859 by the Church Missionary Society (CMS) with Rev. Thomas Babington Macaulay, father of the late nationalist, Herbert Macaulay as principal. The establishment of the school was part of the Missionary Society's plan to develop local educated elite which could help promote the Christian faith. The products of the CMS Grammar School filled an existing vacuum and also formed the bulk of the emergent educated elite who ended up shaping "the future of Nigeria". Some eminent old grammarians include Mr. Akintola Williams, CBE, CFR (the first Nigerian Chartered Accountant), Late Chief F.R.A. Williams, QC, SAN (first Senior Advocate of Nigeria); Earnest Shonekan, GCFR, former President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria; Dr Oladapo Fafowora, Ambassador Plenipotentiary; late Professor Ayodele Awojobi, the first African to be awarded the degree of Doctor of Science (DSc) in Mechanical Engineering at the now Imperial College London. The motto of the school is Nisi Dominus Frustra which means "Without God, We Labour in Vain".

NSSFF School Profiles

COMPREHENSIVE HIGH SCHOOL, AIYETORO (CHSA) is a co-educational secondary school situated on a sprawling 171-hectare site, 37 kilometres west of Abeokuta in Ogun State. The school was founded in February 1963 and is a result of the joint efforts of the Old Western region government, United States Agency for International Development(USAID), Harvard University and the Ford Foundation.

The school is in no doubt the precursor of the 6-3-3-4 system of education and largely responsible for the popularity of comprehensive education in the country. Fondly referred to as “Compro” the school has produced many distinguished old students who are making positive contributions in the society both in Nigeria and abroad. Founded in 2002, Compronians UK is the UK Alumni Association of CHSA.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT COLLEGE (FGC) SOKOTO, was founded on the 6th of February 1966, along with others at Warri and Okposi. They were the first generation of Unity Colleges set up with the aim of being unifying institutions, bringing together young Nigerian students from diverse ethnic and religious divides, with the purpose of providing them high quality education in an environment of academic and developmental excellence, devoid of ethnic, religious or social stratification. The founding Principal was the legendary Mr P.H Davies who went on to be Principal of FGC Warri. Federal Government College Sokoto has grown to become a model institution that can be credited with graduating many of Nigeria’s current leaders in both the public and private sector. The school has produced amongst several others, notable and distinguished Nigerians including Donald Duke, the dynamic former governor of Cross River State. FGCSOSA UK is the Alumni Association in the United Kingdom.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT GIRLS COLLEGE (FGGC) BIDA was one of the Unity Schools introduced across Nigeria in the early 1970s with the aim of promoting multiculturalism and national unity. On leaving school, the majority of old students went on for further education and the school has since produced many professionals in different fields of life working nationally and internationally. The idea of “UK Old Girls” association was fostered by 3 people in 2010 when they met at Nando’s restaurant in 02 Arena, London. The aim of the association is to broaden opportunities for alumni to “give back” to our school, administer numerous programs which will enhance the educational experience of current students by providing academic and financial assistance.

The objective of the CMS and Methodist planners was to show that improved education could best be established under ecumenical Christian influence provided “an environment adequate for the purpose” could be located. This meant emphasizing residence for pupils and teachers, and land spacious enough to cater for this, as well as providing fields for sport, craft, farm, etc. A 32-acre plot, part of the kola plantations of the family of Madam Tinubu met these requirements, hence the name, “Igbobi” College.
